ALPFA: TSG Focus Meeting

Tuesday, January 19th, 2010

6:30pm

“Back Bay” Conference Room

W92 Bldg, 1st Floor

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

AGENDA:

This week Anna Giraldo Kerr, a Life Coach Professional, will present the following topic:

“Using self exploration and discovery tools to change careers “

The current economic environment is driving many professionals to reassess their career options. One of these options often includes changing careers. And although there is no exact science to switching careers, successful career changes are deliberate and thorough in their quest. Workshop participants will be introduced to several career assessment tools and their role in the job search and career change process. They will also learn to map assessment descriptors to potential new careers.

Directions:

By car: The conference room is located in building W92. If you visit <http://whereis.mit.edu/> and type "W92" in the "search map" box, you will see information on the building and its location. The entrance to the building is actually on Amesbury Street. There is ample parking on Vassar Street. W92 is located next to the Hyatt Regency Cambridge (575 Memorial Drive). The hotel has a parking garage in the event no street parking is available.

By public transportation: Take the Green Line train to Boston University Central Station (please see link below), and from there walk across the BU bridge to Cambridge. Take a right at the end of the bridge, and the Hyatt Regency Hotel will be on your left. The W92 building is next to the Hyatt.
